SOCIAL NOTES

A PRETTY home wedding occurred on Monday evening at the residence of the Honorable William O. Smith on Nuuanu avenue, when Miss Katharine

Smith was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Samuel Alexander Baldwin, youngest son of the Honorable H. P. Baldwin, of Maui. The Rev. Dr. Doremus Scudder performed the impressive ceremony, which took place promptly at eight o'clock in the drawing-room, which had been transformed into a bridal bower by the artistic fingers of Miss Lily Paty. The pretty little flower-girl, Frances Baldwin, preceded the bride in her stately march down the staircase, attended by her matron-of-honor, Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, and was given into the keeping of the groom by her father, the bridegroom awaiting them, with the best man, Mr. H. A. Baldwin, under the marriage bell. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Richard Cooke, and soft music also greeted the ears while the register was being signed. The bride's book occupied a tiny table in the hall and the names of the guests were also inscribed on its snowy pages—a memorable souvenir for the future. Then came the congratulations of relatives and friends who had been asked in after the ceremony, and of course everybody admired the bride, who looked lovely in her wedding dress of rich heron-bone silk, trimmed with old rose point lace, which she inherited. The veil, kept in place on her perfectly coiffured head by a spray of orange blossoms, was very becoming. Her diamonds were also inherited from her aunt, Miss Katharine Gray, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and fine maidenhead tied with white tulle, the ends of which were finished with several tiny buds and one half-opened rose symbolical of the extreme youth of the charming bride. Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, the matron-of-honor, wore a handsome pink satin Directoire gown, elaborately trimmed with lace, and the dainty little flower girl, Frances Baldwin, was in pink. Mrs. W. O. Smith's beautiful costume was of black spangled net, and she had on several diamonds. Supper was served directly after the guests arrived and the bride's table was on the lawn. From the chandelier in the center hung a canopy of pink and white satin ribbons, a basket of fine maidenhead ferns being embroidered in its meshes. A large basket of pink roses occupied the center of the table and at either side were vases of the same beautiful roses. Silver candlesticks with pink satin shades cast a soft glow, and the bride's cake was ornamented with Cecil Bruner roses. Place cards bearing the monogram of the hostess in silver seated each guest. At this table were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Baldwin, Dr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Miss Baldwin and Mr. Lorrin Smith. At the children's table were twenty bright and pretty faces, and the other guests were seated at small tables embellished with roses. The wedding cake was on a side table surrounded by a wreath of Cecil Bruner roses, and souvenir pieces were given each guest. The circular side of the drawing room, where the ceremony took place, was literally banked with ferns and white carnations. Hundreds of these flowers were used with artistic effect, and on the walls of the rooms and doors was the jasmine vine. The wedding bell was composed of white carnations, and the tongue formed a pink rose when illuminated. Tall vases held Easter lilies, calla lilies, spider lilies and an enormous bouquet of American Beauty roses occupied one side of the piano. White roses also played an important part in the decorative scheme, and mauve was seen in artistic profusion. The book-case in the library was banked with Marguerites and vases of roses everywhere made the extensive rooms fragrant with their perfume. The dining room, also elaborately decorated with greens and roses, was most attractive, and Kaul's orchestra played throughout the reception on the lawn. The street was lined with motor cars and carriages. The guests were limited to the relatives and the friends of both families. The wedding gifts occupied one large room, but many of the presents were not on view. Among these was a motor car, a grand piano, a check for $5000 for the wedding journey, and many other magnificent gifts. Among the presents seen were a dinner service of silver, silver coffee service and tea set, place plates, koo furniture, a chest of silver, china and glass, bric-a-brac, jewelry, pictures, paintings, embroideries, and many other articles. There were many cables received, one from a brother who is in Rome being of much interest. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Baldwin contemplate taking a wedding journey of two months, and eventually will occupy the home on Bates street now rented by Mr. A.

Lewis. Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith, by the way, began their married life in the same place, the property belonging to her mother, Mrs. Bolbron. Cards have already been received from Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Smith announcing the marriage.

Fairchild Dinner.

Senator and Mrs. George H. Fairchild's dinner last Thursday evening at the picturesque Honolulu Seaside hotel at Waikiki, was probably the most elaborate affair of its kind held during the week. The dinner was served in the private dining room, and the large table was beautifully decorated with dozens of American Beauty roses arranged in and falling out of a large Indian basket placed at one corner. A fall of gold lace, caught at the top of the handle of the basket by a cloth of gold ribbon, was most effectively interwoven amongst the roses, and fell artistically over the table cloth diagonally to the opposite corner, where another large grouping of the same roses was placed, making a most beautiful effect. A quartet club played throughout the evening, and the guests danced until a late hour. Mrs. Fairchild wore a graceful white Directoire costume and looked charming. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Mott Smith, Major and Mrs. Dunning, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney and Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder.

"Arcadia," the residence of Governor and Mrs. Walter Frear in Punahou street, was the scene of another successful "at home" on Monday. It was the last "at home" of the season, and everybody turned out, not only to greet the Governor and his wife, but to shake hands in the good old democratic fashion with former Vice-President Fairbanks, his wife and daughter, who received with them. The Royal Hawaiian band played on the lawn. Tea and coffee were served in the dining-room and a delicious cooling drink on the lawn. Hundreds partook of the hospitality which has always been so generously given and Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks won golden opinions, so cordial and delightful were they. Mrs. Frear wore a dainty frock and a hat tied with blue ribbons. It was in the latest style, but proved very becoming to the demure beauty of the Governor's wife. Mrs. Fairbanks was in a lovely frock, very distinctive in cut, and becoming. Mrs. Timmons was admired immensely, the cunning little ruffles of Val lace introduced with her costume being very fetching. Her hat was also a triumph of the milliner's art. It was a perfect day, and all Honolulu was there. Those who assisted were Mr. and Mrs. Mott-Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hemenway, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mrs. Babbitt, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Sutton, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wall, Judge and Mrs. Lindsay, Judge and Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. B. F. Billingham, Mrs. Erdman, Miss Alice Bond, Miss Doris Taylor, Miss Ruth Renton and Miss Marion Austin.

Mrs. Ernest Waterhouse gave an informal tea on Wednesday at her residence in Judd street, in honor of Mrs. Baedefeld, who will soon be sailing away to be married. Mr. Otis is a railroad man, and comes from one of the good old American families. On Wednesday Mrs. Baedefeld wore a pretty blue and white mull, which was very becoming, and she received many congratulations. Among those invited were Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Mrs. James Judd, Mrs. Clarence Cooke, Mrs. W. D. Baldwin, Mrs. A. Lewis, Mrs. Walter Emory, Mrs. Wadhams, Mrs. S. G. Wilder, Mrs. Hawes, Jr., Miss Nora Sturgeon, Miss Lorna Lauke.

A pot supper was given on Tuesday last in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Fairchild, who have been entertained so extensively by Mr. and Mrs. Mott-Smith. It was a delicious supper, hot and appetizing and Mrs. Ladd, who had the affair in charge, excelled herself. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gartley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder, Miss Lily Paty, Mr. Frank Armstrong.

Invitations have been received as follows: Dr. and Mrs. John Stricker McGrew request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their niece, Juanita Hardaway, to Mr. Philip Grane Wrightson, United States Army, on Wednesday evening, June the second, one thousand nine hundred and nine at half after eight o'clock, St. Andrew's Cathedral, Honolulu, T. H.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder entertained at dinner on Sunday evening in honor of Mrs. Hosmer, Mr. Ralph Hosmer, Miss du Bois and Mr. du Bois. Mr. du Bois and sister are guests at the Pleasanton hotel, and the former is a noted forester.

A CASE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Relieved In a Remarkable Manner By Pe-ru-na.

Pe-ru-na is a Systemic Catarrh Remedy.

Especially Adapted to Cases of Nervous Prostration

Caused By Overwork, Mental Strain or Extreme Summer Heat.

IN latitudes where warm weather is of long continuance, the inhabitants become more or less accustomed to it.

In Temperate Zones, however, where the change from winter to summer is great, the system is sometimes poorly prepared to meet the exigencies of hot weather. This is the cause of much sickness.

Stomach catarrh, indigestion and dyspepsia are not among the least of summer ailments.

When the digestion is disturbed, the assimilation is also affected, and as a result the body does not receive the nourishment it should. Lassitude, weakness, brain fog, loss of flesh and nervous prostration are the natural results.

What is needed is a remedy that will restore the digestive organs to their normal condition.

Such a remedy has been found in Pe-ru-na. It has proven itself of great value in thousands of cases of this kind.

Its action has been remarkable at times in restoring some patients who had given up all hope of recovery.

But there is nothing strange about Pe-ru-na's action. It simply tones up the mucous membranes of the organs involved, restoring them to their normal condition and leaving Nature to perform her duties unimpeded.

That person who has sound, healthy mucous membranes lining the entire digestive tract is well-guarded against the usual summer ailments.

Pe-ru-na is the means whereby to attain this most desirable condition.

If you suffer from any of the above mentioned symptoms, try a bottle of Pe-ru-na.

One bottle of this remedy is often sufficient to convince any one of its merits as a safe and reliable remedy for all catarrhal conditions.

We have many letters of gratitude received from persons who have experienced its benefits.

These testimonials are proof to us that Pe-ru-na has not failed in the mission for which it was intended, that of relieving suffering and restoring health.

The following wholesale druggists will supply the retail trade: BENSON, SMITH & CO., Honolulu, Hawaii.

MR. P. BRIENS, 28 Third Street, Limolou, Quebec.

"The fatigues entailed by my duties as accountant began to weaken my system about a year ago. I felt that I would not long be able to withstand the severe strain upon my nerves, as, a thing unknown to me before, I would long for office hours to be over in order to rest."

"I gradually grew weaker and a few months later my sight was impaired. I then broke down completely and was obliged to take to my bed. I was also suffering from palpitation of the heart."

"After a few weeks' treatment by a local physician, I was in the same critical condition and as the doctor held out no great prospects for me, I decided to experiment on myself."

"I took several remedies advertised as tonics, but did not derive any benefit. Pe-ru-na was then given a trial, and before I had taken it a week I felt my condition improving. After a few weeks more had elapsed, during which time I followed the directions carefully, my shattered nervous system became firmer, my sight stronger and I hoped to be out soon again."

"My expectations were realized, for in three weeks I assumed my duties as accountant at the office."

"Pe-ru-na certainly worked wonders on my system, and for persons run-down from overwork, I believe it is the most efficacious tonic."

Kidneys and Liver.

Mr. George E. Hess, Supervisor of the 2nd District, 1611 Broadway, Watervliet, New York, U. S. A., writes:

"It is but just to you to acknowledge with thanks the great help I have received from the use of Pe-ru-na. Two years ago I was a sick man. My kidneys and liver were out of order, and the pain in my back and head was at times so severe that I was obliged to give up my work."

"At this time a club friend of mine spoke to me of Pe-ru-na, and induced me to try it. The effect it had on me from the first was most remarkable. I knew at once that I had secured the right medicine, and was entirely cured in ten weeks."

Distress After Eating.

Mr. J. W. Pritchard, Columbia City, Indiana, U. S. A., writes:

"I am pleased to say that I have been cured of catarrh of the stomach by Pe-ru-na."

"I could hardly eat anything that agreed with me. Before I would get half through my meal my stomach would fill with gas, causing me much distress and unpleasant feelings for an hour or two after each meal."

"But, thanks to your Pe-ru-na, I am now completely cured, and can eat anything I want to without any of the distressing symptoms. I can now enjoy my meals, and it is all due to Dr. Hartman and his wonderful medicine."
